

SUPPORT TO THE NEW WAVE OF KOSOVO FILMMAKERS

GUIDELINES FOR APPLICATION

'Furthering Democratic Society through the use of Arts and Culture' is a program of DokuFest that aims to respond to the challenges of contemporary society, such as, erosion of democratic institutions and lack of dialogue and inclusion, by merging arts and culture with wider relevant social issues.

One of the key elements of this program is provision of grants to support local talent of young storytellers, directors and producers for the production and distribution of local stories to international markets, thus promoting local stories seen from the perspective of young and creative artists.

These grants are intended to provide alternative funding for filmmaking in Kosovo and are dedicated to filmmakers who can develop and deliver the project within a set timeframe. Beneficiaries of these grants may be individuals who are ready to engage with young producers, through registered film production companies.

Individuals born after 31 December 1991 who are citizens of the Republic of Kosovo will be eligible to apply for funding for a period of maximum 12 months including delivery of the final cut of the film. To be eligible for funding, individuals have to register a personal Fiscal Number at the Tax Administration of Kosovo, or be associated with a Film Production Company registered at Kosovo Cinematography Center (QKK). The maximum budget requested for funding from this call for one grant should not exceed EUR 10,000.

BACKGROUND

DokuFest's commitment over the years in development and promotion of Kosovo's young filmmakers has been recognized as one of the instrumental supports in development of overall film scene in Kosovo.

With the support from the Embassy of Sweden in Prishtina, DokuFest will further create models for effective Cultural Diplomacy by serving as a hub for exchange of information in real time, integrating and nurturing interdependency between cultural workers, storytellers, activists engaged with communities, regional partners, international institutions and with specific focus with diaspora.

One of the integral components of the agreement includes provision of new opportunities to further strengthen the new wave of Kosovar filmmakers, with particular focus on young filmmaking talent. For this purpose, DokuFest has developed a grant scheme over three years to support minimum five film projects for filmmakers under 30 years old who are focused on human interest stories from Kosovo.

The film project detailing the genre, themes, plot, structure, setting and characters for the original short film (fiction or documentary) with a maximum length of up to 30 minutes (including credits) will be granted with funding to complete the production within 12 months.

A priority will be given to projects with a potential for films that bring local stories and that have potential capacity for international distribution. In addition, all projects that apply will be encouraged and supported to find additional funding from Public and Private institutions (and in exceptional cases international film funding).

DokuFest will premiere these films in Kosovo at DokuFest, except in cases when the film is ready for international premiere in advance and is selected for any of the A list film festival internationally. DokuFest will support the international Festival Distribution, whereas the VoD and other international distribution modalities will be completed through a specialized International Distribution Agency, which will be identified during and after the completion of the first project.

In the first year we will support a minimum one film project, while in the second and third year minimum two film projects per year.
